NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FORTY-TWO

Student and college life through the written word, photography, and art! That sums up what we have tried to give you in this year's edition of the Argo. Our hope is that in years to come when you wish to recall the faces and scenes you knew in 1941, you will leaf through this annual and remember the pleasures, disappointments and achievements of this college year.

In Recognition

of MAXWELL R. KELSO

As dean of the college and professor of History, his vision, skill, and his readiness to serve have been recognized by all. As an individual, his character, industry and superb judgment all combine to make him a truly great personality who has commanded and received the love and admiration of all those who have known him. The 1942 Argo takes this opportunity to honor Dean Kelso as a teacher and a leader at this college by respectfully dedicating this book to him.

DEAN KELSON, in his office in Old Main dictating to his secretary • His two children, Donald and Ann • at his desk where he has successfully directed the affairs of the students.

Faculty, Students United In Team Support, Holcad Survey Indicates

With the victorious Titan ball team scheduled for New York championship play-offs, a Holcad survey of the campus behind the Blue and White basketballers.

In a statement this week, Prof. Walter Biberich, instructor, remarked, "I think it's the finest team that I've seen in all my years of teaching at Westminster. You can see one soul and one mind in the whole team. If the boys are of one mind and have coordination, they can lick the Sphinx president Paul Biggs opinion, remarking, "I've worked hard for every point I've earned, and therefore I'm right to go to New York. I'll show the students to show when they do go there."

Biggs Calls Team

Professor Walter Biggs, News Bureau head, said the Titan publicity campaign is most gratifying.

Dr. Metcalf Will Read Paper To Chem Group

Dr. Edward A. Metcalf, professor of chemistry, will read a paper on "Methylated Cellulose and Derivatives" before the cellulose division of the American Chemical society at its national meeting April 7 to 11 at St. Louis.

The paper, which will be published in the Journal of the American Chemical society soon, is the result of an investigation carried out by Dr. Metcalf while he was at DuPont Post-Doctoral Fellow.

Neale Introduces Ethical Reviews

New feature this year in Christian Ethics is the ethical review to be made of popular books of a secular nature.

Purpose of this new type of report is to apply the principle of ethics to his reading, to become ethically educated, and to evaluate morally what he has read.

Reports include such material as plot, personal, social, and political morals involved, and an evaluation of the implications of the teachings of Christ.

Books recommended for the course include such well known titles of books as, "Man, the Unknown," "An American Boy," "Morning Becomes Evening,"

Different Angle

Dean Duncan, history department, pointed out a different angle on the team. "What is that one man—if a man is off one others can carry on. Their ability to shoot from all points on the field is exceptional."

Summing up the unanimous opinion of the campus, Ruth YWCA representative, said, "It's a wonderful team and a wonderful team."

Dr. Duncan Will Teach History At 'Ole Miss'

Dr. R. Bingham Duncan, history department professor, will teach this summer in the University of Mississippi, his alma mater, at Oxford, Mississippi, it was learned today.

During the nine-weeks summer course, Dr. Duncan will teach a course in American history, one in the Economic and Social history of the Old South, and a survey of European history.

The Trend In Modern Education

Westminster College was founded in April, 1852, and was incorporated by the state of Pennsylvania with full university powers, thus providing for an almost unlimited expansion in the future. Located in New Wilington, Pa., a small residential town of slightly more than 1000 inhabitants, Westminster overlooks one of the most beautiful valleys in the state. The buildings of sandstone are constructed in the dignified collegiate Gothic style. The newly finished Ferguson Hall completes the campus quadrangle, which now includes Old Main, Browne Hall, Gym, Library, and the ivy-covered Science Hall.

The college is interested in aiding its student body and serving as a cultural center, bringing to the attention of the supporting community the best in spiritual, intellectual, and artistic endeavor.

A member of the Association of American Colleges, it is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. It is on the approved list of Association of American Universities.

The last few years the college has been "cracking down" in the courses endeavoring to raise the academic standard of the college even higher; at the same time developing a friendlier relationship between the faculty and students.

This year Westminster was modernized. Old Main now features pastel colored class rooms with white ceilings, Ferguson Hall has its buzzer system and winding stairway, and plans are being made to rejuvenate the Science Hall... Westminster anticipates the trend in modern education.

Capable Administration Assures Progress

President Galbreath, L.L.D., D.D., one of the most understanding of prexies talking to his able assistants, Dean Maxwell R. Kelso and Dean Mary E. Turner. Their offices in Old Main are open for consultation, condolences or just a friendly chat at all times.

The Business Office—with its registration rush, lost and found department and capable force of Miss Mercer, Prexy's secretary; Isobel Ramsey, Recorder; Ross Ellis, Business Manager; Clara McCandless, Assistant to the business manager; Louise Sewall, Accountant; Elsie Johnson, Secretary; and Alfred Shaffer, superintendent of the buildings and grounds.

Miss Ailman, head of the library staff, has launched a blitzkrieg on the lounge lizards, talking two-somes, and, saucy seniors (C. F. Tony) who told librarians, "You aren't so big yourself." P. S. He was given one week.

Petite, pert Billy Lorimer teaches the girls' gym and swimming classes.

Coach Washabaugh—king of coaches who steers Titan teams to the top. Joe Ferris and Dave Boyd, Phys. Ed. instructor, are the other two good guys on the gym.

William Johns, M.S., Director of Public Relations. As frosh we remember him as the gracious guide who "sold" Westminster to us. But we have come to know him as the cheery counselor with a friendly handwave for all.

Development of Tomorrow

ROOM 206, OLD MAIN—The Economics and Business Department is directed by smiling Captain William McKee, better known to students as "Cappy", who teaches the senior courses. The Captain of the department is aided by Mr. Ross Ellis, able business manager, who also teaches statistics. Dr. H. C. Graebner, brisk and business-like, teaching accounting to "floundering Frosh" and the junior courses to the majors. Another member of the crew, Dr. B. B. Holder, teaching tiring economics, is widely known for his slow southern drawl.

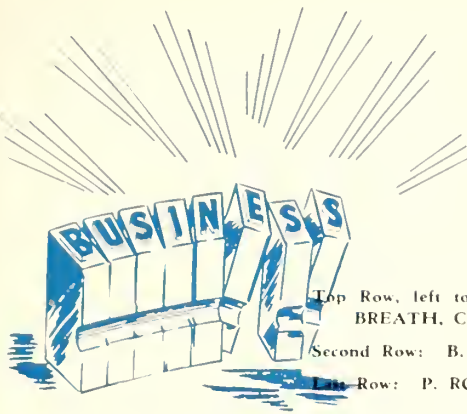

"CAPPY" McKEE'S personal project, the American Economic and Business Foundation, is meeting the need and approval of business executives and bankers in the surrounding counties.

Secretarial Science Enro

B.A., M.E. • MR. RUSSELL N. CANS-
LER, B.S., L.L.B.

ROOM 317, OLD MAIN—The Secretarial Science department has become an efficient, progressive department under its new chairman, Mr. Russell N. Cansler. When Irish, business-like Mr. Cansler walks into a shorthand class, there is a flurry of notebook pages, as he says, "Take a letter . . ." and begins to dictate even before he closes the door. Mr. Cansler lectures on everything from the behavior of a good secretary to world events, to serve the double purpose of giving the students practical experience in taking shorthand and of giving them a broader knowledge of people and world events. A typical expression of Mr. Cansler's is, "Remember that man's name—he is important," as he tells his classes about a business man with whom he is acquainted. He says of filing, "It is worth something, yet worth nothing."

A valuable member of the commercial department is Mr. Donald Lawrence, one of the campus' eligible bachelors. Amiable Mr. Lawrence, who is interested in the students, instructs potential secretaries in typing, business English, salesmanship, and bookkeeping. In his beginning typing class, Mr. Lawrence's favorite expression is, "Don't . . . look up . . . at the end . . . of the line," which he chants in rhythm with the thumping typewriters.

In the pink-walled office practice room are several new machines, including the noisy, complicated multigraph duplicator, the vari-type, and the liquid ditto, which reeks with the alcohol that is used to moisten the rolls. These machines and other standard office machines are used by inky-fingered commercial students who will need to understand how to run them when they are working in a real business office. Some of the office practice "prattle" includes discussion of the effect of the new dusky-pink walls on the commercial students. Also there are lively discussions concerning the person who almost put green ink in the mimeograph machine and the person who mimeographed 2000 copies instead of 200, which all shows that there can be pleasure along with business.

History Reveals The Past

Constitutional Law, Basis for Tomorrow's Lawyers

ROOM 206—OLD MAIN—The History and Government Department is headed by Dr. Leon S. Marshall, the dignified history professor who deals in dates and details of the past. Also guiding the students' study from Stone Age to Streamline, is Dean Maxwell R. Kelso, Mr. Thomas V. Mansell, reserved and capable, lectures about Supreme Court and Senators to his 8:00 o'clock Government classes; and Dr. Reid Bingham Duncan, a valuable member of the department, presents the trends of modern history.

Dr. Marshall of the history department, is well known for his slow jibe and his wonderful fielding when he plays mushball for the faculty. He is again manager of the faculty team this year and they had a successful season, beating the fraternities once each (except the Kaps). The faculty team showed a great improvement this year over past years with the faculty cooperating in the fullest. Doc. Holder is still one of the funniest men and perhaps the best liked on the faculty team. This year's pitcher is Joe Ferris and he is much revered by the opposing teams for he has a fast ball that would make you stand back and take notice. The best fielder on the team is Mr. Reuter of center field. A close second is Dean Kelso. This game with the faculty is perhaps one of the games most enjoyed by the fraternity teams as everyone forgets old prejudices and really has a good time. That is where the Westminster students and faculty get together.

Language, The Tongue of All Nations

ROOM 312—OLD MAIN—The Language Department is headed by Miss Mary Elizabeth Stewart, reticent French teacher who makes her classes interesting with humorous stories of French customs. Valuable to the department is the professor of ancient languages, Mr. Gilbert H. Taylor, who is Phi (to rhyme with key) Beta Kappa. His vivid modern parallels of ancient times and good American slang translations make classes lively and interesting. Mr. Walter Biberich, a skilled magician, transforms his students into German STUDENTEN with the finesse of a master of magic. And Mr. Albert George, popular professor of French and Spanish, presents the language and literature of foreign people at his classes.

BIBLE DEPARTMENT

Promotes Student Interest in Religion

ROOM 202—OLD MAIN—Knocking on the door, one enters the small haven of the Bible Department and is greeted by genial Dr. Orr, department head.

Speech and Dramatics Devel

ROOM 104, OLD MAIN—Here we find Dr. Albert T. Cordray and assistant, Glenn Taylor, keeping a watchful eye on one of the busiest corners of Old Main.

"Teacher" Cordray calmly observes the rush for last minute ticket reservations, the nervous pacing of ambitious actors and actresses in final rehearsal of lines, the confusion of the wardrobe mistresses searching for the villain's missing top hat, the frantic efforts of the stage technicians attempting to replace a fallen piece of scenery, and in the meantime capably conducting his classes in speech and dramatics.

At the same time Mr. Taylor patiently listens while frightened freshmen hurry through their required three minute speeches and later on records the improved voices of these same freshmen. In between times "Prof" is coaching his debate team and arranging a successful lecture course.

ENGLISH...A Recording

ROOM 212 — OLD MAIN— Perhaps the most popular department as far as the hungry collegians are concerned, is the English Department. The energetic Dr. Purdy, Department head, is famed for her love of long walks. Incidentally, did you notice that the famous "Purdy teas" were even mentioned in Brinkley's latest song hit? Dr. Virginia Everett, expert on Chaucer, made front page this winter when she broke her arm. Her gaily colored slings became a familiar campus sight. Mrs. Mary McConagha, familiarly known as "Mrs. Mac" keeps her classes busy with quotations from the classics, and a constant demand on their reading. Jovial Dr. Baker is forever finding ways to encourage prospective freshmen. Our latest addition to the department, Dr. Leland, is not only an ardent baseball and tennis fan but he also enjoys the strains of Strauss and Brahms.

Music Department

CONSERVATORY

Students and profs at the Conservatory are good friends. Professor D. Ralph Appleman, new head of the Conservatory, is popular with the students. Mr. Cameron, violin instructor, teacher of harmony and counterpoint classes, and director of band and orchestra, has just the right answer for any tricky question you can think of to ask. Miss Peabody, patient and competent, is the mainstay of the practice teachers. Mr. Freeman and Miss Kirkbride understand so well when someone just couldn't find time to practice his scales. "Prof." Davis, whose lessons are so much fun, makes his students really want to sing. Mr. Nevin, everyone knows for his lovely chords on the organ and for his fame as a composer.

CLASS OF 1942 . . . JUNIORS

Do You Remember How It Started?

Meek and mild—like an April rain—the Class of '42 landed on Westminster. Frosh docily followed one another from one orientation class to another. Rain for nearly two weeks dampened spirits a bit, but Freshman Week and the defiant demons popped out of their docile demureness. White cotton stockings fluttered from Browne Hall windows and the coeds put on their school girl complexion again. Riled upper-classmen forwent their beauty sleep and rolled out the culprits at six a. m. to march them off to the frat houses. Answering the alarm D. T. came to the rescue and the Hillside Hussies were subdued. Tribunal—with bare bronze Sarver as Tarzan and Lady Ludwig as his mate—failed to settle the upstart. Next day found Humes with her head hid in a bird cage, Snow and Ewalt tooting the trumpets on the terrace, and Mary McKissick wheeling a baby carriage to school. With Jimmy Ludwig, our pernicious prexy, the class of '42 gave the ultra-modern cabaret dance complete with checked table cloths, a bar, and white jacketed waiters. The classes' gift to Westminster was Wilson, Ridl, Fox, Spak, Wasik—Titan tops who "tore it down". The Pitt game was a victory—but a sober one—for Wasik received a skull fracture and was out for the rest of the season.

Vacation—and the class of '42 moved up one notch. Buzz Ridl steer the sophs—and the Soph circus dance was just that. Talk of a new dorm was in the air and a drive started. The Titans were short of the top this year—but the next was yet to come—The Phi Pi Phi was installed into Alpha Sigma Phi, and the Sig Eps had their April Fool fire. The class blustered and bullied to nominate their man at the Mock Convention—and in spite of "three o'clock in the morning, balloting the whole night through," no one was nominated. The class sauntered through spring and took finals in their slow stride.

As backbone of the college the class of '42 stiffened their spines, took a deep breath and plunged into a whirl of activities. "Fat Man Brink" was back and his Westminster adaption of "I can't get started with you" started him with everyone else. The Titan team toppled all records, trucked on down to New York, and came back with "Balloons" as their pass word. Buzz Ridl was again elected president and was engineer with Fox as chief fireman for "Tuxedo Junction" — the smooth Junior Prom. Spring slipped around again; and the backbone class went on working—Argo, Holcad, cross country, tennis, plays, new honoraries, Bible themes. Sally Stanley became the first May Queen put up by the new election board. The meek and mild freshmen of '38 have grown suave and sure seniors of '42.

Hot Chili New Way To Attain Beauty Sub-par Decides After Talk With Pinky

By Miss Sub-Par

"Just a little more to the right. You must smile so. Do you understand? Not such a happy grin... that would ruin the effect of freshness that we must try to capture. Can't you get something nice; something to bring just a whisper of a smile... so. Hold it!"

Pinky squeezed his little rubber bulb, and released it; then he turned to Miss Sub-Par who was sitting on the table in the room trying to determine the sleeves of the sweater up or down.

Perfect Nose Not

"Her nose does not look perfect, her complexion is perfect, and yet she can be perfect... this something that makes a person that makes usually it is that take a good picture."

This was a difficult task. It was like being a person without a score. Sub-Par brooded over the old proofs that had been destroyed by fire. Could she have looked like a dead-pale, unknown quality color if one went about...

Blue, White, Theme Of Freshman Hop

Freshmen will utilize a blue and white color theme at their annual Hop next Saturday night in the gymnasium, according to Joe DeMoise, class prexy.

Featuring the music of Hud Jam and his orchestra, the dance will open the spring social season on campus following the initial In sorority ball held the night before. Price of the dance has been one dollar per couple.

Pi Delts Organize First Camera Club

Designed to provide darkroom facilities for advanced campus photographers, Westminster's first camera club will be organized this week under the sponsorship of Pi Delta Epsilon. A three-man committee consisting of Joseph Young, Russell Apple, and Paul Horn has been named by the journalism group to supervise formation.

Although plans drawn up are open to ten persons with provision for possible later expansion in membership. Membership in the organization must be made by application to the committee.

Senate Announces Dance Date Change

A conflict with a prearranged Conservatory rehearsal schedule necessitated a change in the date of the annual turn-about Senate dance, Mildred Gorby, dance chairman, announces.

Date of the dance has been moved up to Friday night, March 21, a day change, she said. Hud Jam and his orchestra will provide music for the affair. Edward Rosenberger, B. Paul Horn...

College Men May Register For Draft With Local Board

All Collegians Within Age Limits Must Make Application October 16

Westminster college students eligible to register under the conscription law need not return to their homes to register, a bulletin recently issued by the American Council on education indicates.

Based upon a special study of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 in relation to the American college student, the Bulletin points out that the "student may register at any convenient place regardless of legal residence or domicile. The county clerk will mail his registration card to the local selective service board having jurisdiction over the area which the student indicates as his place of residence."

The President has set October 16 as the date for registration to be conducted by the local election officials of that

"Campus Capers"

"Cram" Sessions Put Students In Crazed, Dazed, Hazed Exam Mood

With exams, like prosperity, "just around the corner" In thoughts of "Will this exam be tough?" "Which exam is going to take more work?" and "How long will this one take?" fill the minds of all students. Freshmen and upperclassmen alike have begun to worry and even gone to the point of hibernating to worry alone.

All-night study sessions and all-afternoon reviews take students away from their favorite habitats. Even the brave ones, who venture up street, always carry books with them and, if they are conscientious, spread out in a Grill booth and get in some honest-to-goodness studying. It must be the familiar atmosphere that seems to get them in the right mood. If you've tried to study all night (and everyone has), you know how soon that case of coke disappeared when you and your roommate got into it! It takes more than a book to keep you awake—it takes work.

Campus sports have suffered neglect and about the only exercise one gets is to walk to and from morning classes. There's that advice some eminent psychologist gave—that one should get out and walk every ten minutes. But I wouldn't advise anyone to start the thing done! Just sit yourself down with books and notes in hand and talk to some down.

"Ideal Secretary" Jean Martin Is Thrilled At Title "Miss Block W"

By Lillian McCartney

The curl in the center of her forehead bobbed up and down excitedly and her dark brown eyes sparkled as pretty Jean Martin, Dean Kelso's "Ideal Secretary," admitted she was "absolutely thrilled" to be chosen Miss Block W for 1940. "I just love my sweater, and I've worn it almost every day since I got it," said Jeanne, wondering all the while how the boys managed to get such a perfect fit. She confesses that she's worse than sloppy swayed by her title of honor. She wears a black taffeta skirt and a house with rhinestones down the front.

Hud Jame's Band At Council Party

Student Council members met last night with a strictly informal party at the college gymnasium. The Council President, Dick Kerner, in charge of all arrangements, announced that the evening was free. He also stated that the party was not to be considered a formal affair and that all students were invited to attend.

Entertainment has been provided by the feature of the evening. Meeting two nights ago, the students elected Hud Jame as the new secretary. The new secretary, Hud Jame, is a member of the Student Council.

FAMILY PORTRAIT—Burnite, Turnock

"Teacher" Cordray and his Little Theater players have an uncanny ability to make even hardened Westminsterites shake with most undignified laughter or sit in dramatic silence for a tense minute, or even to shed a few tears grudgingly. Back stage of the Little Theater, in the dressing rooms, or in the "ticket office" there is just as much drama and excitement as there is on the opening night of one of New York's most imposing productions. There is no flashing of electric lights over the marquee of the theater, yet there is the same scurry to get into costumes, the same hurried orders by the director, irritated shouts of property men, excited stage manager trying to keep everyone out of everyone else's way, electricians experimenting with new lighting effects at the last minute, technicians trying out the telephone with one hand and creating a thunderstorm with the other, and all the while the actors are applying with zeal the make-up which will turn them miraculously into "—or—or—."

This year there have been three three-act plays in the Little Theater. Remember "House Party"? It appealed to Westminster because it dealt with college life. True, this house party with its murders and hidden bodies was a little more exciting than most of ours have been. It was this play which introduced Max Linn to Westminsterites and in which Lois Porch gave an amazing characterization which was so surprising for a dignified and gracious May Queen.

Not long after Christmas the Little Theater surprised us with a play which was different from any we had seen before. "Family

Footlights

HETHERINGTON

Portrait" is a story of the family life of Jesus, and its reality and pathos, and ultimate feeling of victory made everyone of us glad we had seen it. Backstage, however, Gealy was starting the cast to giggle by reciting the Gettysburg Address as part of the murmur in a mob scene. Dr. Cordray was tearing his hair because someone was vigorously ringing the victory bell in the middle of a most dramatic scene, and the dough for the breadmaking scene was rising and was constantly being kneaded so that it would be in presentable condition for its appearance on the stage. It was after the last performance of

"Family Portrait" that Teacher presented the grateful cast with a huge cake.

Everyone liked "Fashion" with its gay nineties orchestra, its funny program, and its typical melodramatic dialogue. Of course, the audience didn't know that B. J. Hughes lost one of her artificial curls during a particularly vehement gesture nor that she tripped over her hoops every time she had to turn a corner. Did you wonder why the cast themselves got the giggles while Jim Heriot smoked that huge cigar? Ask Lois Gruiser. She's allergic to cigar smoke and one whiff of Jim's set her to sneezing every time. The Little Theater players give most of the credit for their success to "Teacher" Cordray, who is ever patient and doesn't lose his temper if an absent-minded actor forgets the line he has been forgetting every night since rehearsals started. Dr. Cordray provides his students with opportunities to direct plays of their own by encouraging the production of one-act plays which are entirely student directed. "Overtones," directed by Elizabeth Burnite was presented at an Alumni meeting at Horne's in Pittsburgh. That particular production will be remembered a long time by the cast by a mental picture of "Ginny" Zepp stirring four lumps of sugar in her tea, each one carefully wrapped.

The Outstanding Seniors

Eleven popular seniors, five women and six men, were chosen this year to be Westminster's contribution to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities".

Esther King, tall, blond, and blue eyed with a personable smile and a certain air of dignity, has a way of getting things done in just the way they should be. Jean Martin, tiny and brunette, has well earned her place in Who's Who. Jean was Ideal Freshman Girl, 1941 Argo Queen, and Miss Block W for 1941. Everyone likes Jean, who is never too busy for a friendly chat. Janet Reed—she of the auburn hair and the even disposition—is a faithful worker in a great many activities. A convincing speaker and an honor English student,

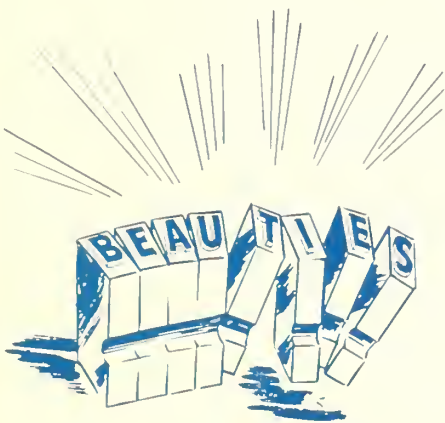

Janet is also active in religious work. Virginia Purdy is an excellent sports woman, president of W. A. A., and a member of Outing Club. In her junior year Jinny won the W. A. A. scholarship. She is also a member of Target, Y. W., Kappa Delta Pi, and is in the May Court. Jane Stonerod, known for her dark braids and her dignity, is Dean Turner's competent secretary. She will be remembered as the tactful president of Senate. We know John Galbreath by his shock of curly hair, his contagious laugh, and by his ability to assume an impressive business-like manner when necessary. Johnny's activities include music, Y. M., Sphinx, Student Council, and honoraries. Richard Kennedy—just call me "Dick"—is the versatile head of Student Council and originator of the popular "gripe sessions". Dick is everyone's pal and is the perfect confidante for your troubles. Dan Mamula, football hero with a physique that is the envy of every he-man on the campus, is a tactful executive and capable business man. Dan is prexy of the Sig Eps and the Inter-fraternity Council. Joe Young will be remembered as the proud editor of the 1941 All-American Argo. Joe is a member of Sphinx and President of Pi Delta Epsilon and is liked by Westminsterites for his dry humor. Glenn Clements, one of Westminster's most talented writers and speakers, edited both the Freshman Handbook and Scrawl. He will be remembered for his interesting chapel talks on India and as the capable president of the Y. M. C. A. Paul Rood, or "Steamboat" as we know him, has been indispensable to the blue and white football team and is president of Sphinx and a member of Block W. In spite of all his honors, "Steamer" is still a little bashful and has been known to blush right up to the roots of his hair.

Tap Day Honors

Dad's Day, Home-coming Day, football programs, Journalism Day, debate tournaments, the campus literary magazine, several of the teas and dances of the year—what would Westminster be without them? Yet these are but a few of the contributions of the honoraries to our campus life.

"Will I make it?" anxiously wonder prospective pledges as Tap Day and their chance to participate in these important campus organizations draws near.

HONORARY SOCIETIES...

SCROLL, the honorary English fraternity founded on Westminster campus in 1939. A two average in all English courses, and twelve hours of English are the entrance requirements. Scroll sponsors Scrawl and presents a book to the sophomore who was the most outstanding in Freshman English. Reports are given on current plays and new books and members read original manuscript at the Scroll meetings. The officers are Lois Porch, president; Janet Reed, vice-president; James Neale, secretary; Virginia Purdy, treasurer.

KAPPA DELTA PI was founded in 1911 as a state organization, and in 1932 became a national. The fraternity was organized to encourage high intellectual and scholastic standards and to recognize outstanding contributions to education. To qualify for membership it is necessary to have two semesters of psychology, and be registered in Education 351, and have a two average in all courses. The officers were Esther King, president; Sally Thompson, secretary-treasurer.

PI SIGMA PI, the honorary scholastic fraternity, was organized on Westminster's campus in 1940. It was to promote high scholastic attainment. Pi Sigma Pi sponsors the honor convocation chapel, and supports a continuous drive for new library books. A 2.4 average is required to be a member of Pi Sigma Pi. The officers are John Galbreath, president; Lois Porch, vice-president; Irvin Wyllie, secretary-treasurer.

MASQUERS, the honorary dramatics fraternity founded on the campus in 1930. It promotes and fosters interest in dramatics. Constantly assisting Dr. Corray in Little Theater productions it is active throughout the year. Awarding some member a prize for writing, directing, and participating in plays. The membership is limited to fourteen. Sponsoring the first dance of the year which opened the social season. President, Jean Marshall.

TAU KAPPA ALPHA, national debate fraternity, was installed at Westminster in 1911. Tau Kappa Alpha sponsored a Vaudeville Night in the fall of the year. In December it held its annual pre-season debate tournament, with 16 colleges from a tri-state area participating. A new feature this year is the prize speech contest. The officers are Jane McKee, president; Glenn Lotz, secretary-treasurer; Virginia Rye, historian; John Galbreath, debate manager. Professor Thomas Mansell is sponsor of the group.

PI DELTA EPSILON, national journalistic fraternity, was installed at Westminster in 1933. One of the most active honoraries on campus, it sponsors Homecoming Day, prints the football programs, and in the spring, entertains high school editors on Journalism Day.

This year Professor Wallace Biggs, sponsor of the group, was named editor of Epsilon, the fraternity's magazine. Officers are Joe Young, president; Mike Raddock, vice-president, and Mary Ellen Zeigler, secretary.

DELTA NABLA, the local honorary math fraternity, was founded on Westminster's campus in 1928. Requirements for membership are a two average in ten hours of math. Delta Nabla presents a book to the freshman who receives a straight A in math, besides presenting a book each year to the library.

This year Delta Nabla has spent its time on the publication of a small pamphlet, Delta Nabla Focal Point.

The officers are Marian Stephens, president; Mary Jane Asper, secretary; Beth Robins, vice-president, and Ivan Wetmore, historian.

COMMERCIAL CLUB, New Wilmington, Pa. — An active group of future business women organized under President Mary Thorley in an endeavor to arouse interest in commercial activities. Other officers are Lois Bywaters, secretary, and Ann Daugherty, treasurer. The Commercial Club has been active since 1938; its members sponsor movies for the students of the department and arrange for the appearance of lecturers from the business world.

SPHINX, New Wilmington, Pa.—Sphinx, the Men's Honor ary fraternity, completes another active year with Paul Rood pre- siding as president, and Joseph Young acting as secretary-treas- urer. The fraternity, whose mem- bership is limited to seven mem- bers, two from each fraternity and one non-fraternity, is com- posed of men who have con- tributed to the growth of West- minster College by their out- standing leadership on the campus. The activities of the fraternity include sponsoring Tap Day, the annual Sphinx dance, and Father's Day.

OUTING CLUB—Athletic co- eds who are members of W. A. A. and who have acquired a cer- tain number of points are invited to join the Outing Club. The girls go on breakfast hikes to their cabin in the College Woods and plan wiener roasts, snow hikes, and horseback rides.

BROADCASTERS—The Blue and White room in the library is the center of the Broadcasters activity. Broadcasters was form- ed in 1939 as an organization de- voted to students participation regularly throughout the year in radio broadcasts. Many students are drawn from this professional group for dramatic programs. The active members are: George Feick, Bruce Johnson, and Stew- art Davis.

"Eddie" Rosenberger

The 1942 Argo

Phones ringing, typewriters clacking, talking, and laughing echo through the halls of Old Main—Room 215—birthplace of the 1942 Argo. Founded in 1904 by the senior class, the Argo, sister ship of the Holcad, has been a thriving publication and a continued success since that time. The junior class now puts out the book for the seniors, under the capable direction of Editor-in-Chief Ed Rosenberger. "Rosy" is always handling the "slow jibe" to Marian Stephens or Sally Sturgeon and the way he plasters assignments all over the walls is something to behold. The Argo has a new office at 215 Old Main and it is very pacifying for it is painted a pastel pink with a white ceiling. Typewriters are always clacking copy. Chal Houston is trying to do the "dummy" with females running around the office in search of copy that they have mislaid. Nancy Stewart is usually busy handing out assignments to Ann Hausman, Margie Cook, or "Chuck" Watson. "Stevie" has to listen to all the work that "Rosy" gives her and still keep up literary assignments. Harry Manley is busy trying to keep the numerous bills straight and Ed

Plates have to be sent out, letters written to the photographers and engravers. There are at least two trips to the printers to straighten out copy for the makeup man. The big event of the year was when the photographic studios burned down with all first semester pictures in it. That meant a rush second semester to get the class pictures taken over and to try and make up the losses of basketball and football shots. Next there is Journalism Day when high school students from the surrounding district come to learn how a "college yearbook" is put out and this means setting up a display and having various editors speak on specialized topics. Finally there is the Pi Delt dinner and the giving of the Keys to the editors for their work for the year . . . All this goes into the building of a yearbook.

Paul Horn

The 1941 Holcad

Basement of the McGill Library—Editor-in-Chief, Paul Horn, presides over the hardworking staff of Westminster's weekly newspaper, the Holcad. Putting off that make-up lab, missing the "Grill Hour," or postponing dates, the staff turns out "en-masse" for the weekly meetings, knowing that he will probably end up attending a boring lecture or interviewing a temperamental artist. All through the week there is a scramble for news—news of everything that might please the critical eye of the Holcad's readers. There are interviews with campus celebrities, tactful questionings of the administration, and investigation into the doings of the student body. The fashion editor is on the lookout for anything new and daring for the well dressed co-ed, with particular emphasis on the appearance of high boots, earrings, and the military influence. Holcadabra Hanlon is on the hunt for the latest gossip—new triangles, classroom boners, grill gags, and prof puns. On the scene at basketball or football games the sports writers energetically record for this week's paper the progress of the Titans. In the meantime we find

Editor Paul Horn at the office bellowing into the phone, "Well, get it in," while typewriters pound, papers rustle, and reporters sit chewing at their pencils waiting for an inspiration. On Thursday night, the staff works frantically in a last minute rush to meet the deadline. Mike Raddock is being intellectual on one of Coulter's jokes while McHenry and the Inquiring Reporter combine business and romance. Friday night and the papers are delivered to the dorm, the frat houses, and the Grill, and seven hundred people read what's news.

"This is station WKST on Westminster's campus broadcasting from the Blue and White studio." Fraternity and sorority programs, musicals and drama, make up the varied program on the air twice a week—Tuesday and Friday from the campus.

A radio class writes scripts and produces them throughout the year. Headed by Wallace R. Biggs, these students are coached in radio technique and gain valuable experiences. Students visit nearby studios to learn the mechanics of radio. Located in a soundproof studio with control room, two mikes, sound effects and piano, the students have all the facilities of a studio with which to work.

Y. P. C. U., Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and KARUX, pre-ministerial students' fraternity, compose Westminster's religious organizations. With meetings for devotion and fellowship, these groups sponsor many activities throughout the year. For instance, each freshman girl finds a Y. W. apple on her desk to welcome her to Westminster. Then Y. W. and Y. M. jointly sponsor two of the big nights of Freshman Week—the Freshman and the All College Who's Who. At Christmas time, Y. P. C. U. sponsor a candlelight service. While this year the Y. W. collected everything from stockings to old hats to send to high school girls in Kentucky. The Week of Prayer, with alumnus John Heinrich as speaker, was also jointly sponsored by Y. W. and Y. M. Up to this year, Y. W. has always sponsored the election and crowning of the May Queen. One of the year's "gripe sessions" held on this subject, ended in the division of the sponsorship of May Day with Sphinx. Y. W. and Y. M. finish the year by sponsoring the Baccalaureate sermon and a farewell picnic for seniors.

SCRAWL, the student magazine and youngest publication on the campus, was first issued in May, 1939, by the English honorary, Scroll. The winter number of this year, which was edited by Glenn Clements, had as a specialty, snatches of witty conversation overheard by the staff. The vivid reality of Michael Raddock's "Summer's Work" won the general prize. Zelle Snowden won the award for the best "filler" for her description of skunk cabbage in the poem "Beauty." The five characteristics required by "A Little Sikh" in his letter asking for a wife certainly made the Westminster girls wonder. "Saga of the Little Stream" was the unusual radio script with a touch of local color written by Jean Van Vranken who became editor of the spring issue. In this second publication Michael Raddock again won an award for his serious essay, "Don't Ask Me About War." The general prize went to Norma Hetrick for her optimistic and picturesque poem, "Imagination." The Student Opinion Survey indicated that Westminster rated "Life." Jimmy Stewart, the invitation to the New York Basketball Tourney, Blondie, Wilkie, and "For Whom the Bell Tolls" as tops. A grand piece of humor was "Omi's Letter to Mom." Cheerful editor, Van Vranken made the front page when, as "Omi" expressed it, she fell over a snowflake and broke her leg. But with the help of crutches, Jean and her autographed cast hobbled to and from classes and edited an excellent Scrawl. These issues of Scrawl were an indication of the creative talents of Westminster students.

THE STUDENT HANDBOOK is a publication of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. to acquaint the incoming freshmen with Westminster College. Rules and regulations of the college, student organizations and their officers, yells and songs are included in the booklet together with a short history of the school. The booklet is given to freshmen with their blue dinks and berets and it is part of the equipment of freshman week since freshmen are required to get the signatures of 25 upperclassmen on the blank page included in the back for this purpose. The editorial staff consisted of Donald Ewalt, Editor-in-chief, with Frances Rossell and Betty Young as Associate Editors.

C. A. A.—If the college men are seen straining their eyes toward the sky, if their minds are straying from classwork, if the jingle of money makes them say, "I can land on a dime," you can bet your life you are staring at a C. A. A. student. This semester there are eleven of them on campus with their minds in the sky. Since only ten percent of the group can be women, Margaret "Pete" Tuttle is acknowledged as the only woman student. The ground course is lectured in meteorology, navigation, and theoretical operation of the plane every Tuesday and Thursday evening. Every student is expected to have three hours of flying lessons a week, but enthusiasm raises the quota to four or five hours. Carl Hargreaves comes in first for causing the most anxiety. While learning to stall the engine, he was compelled to make a forced landing. To make the situation more difficult, Hargreaves set the plane down beside a stone quarry. Because the take-off field was a hill, Carl was left behind while the instructor took the plane in. Did you know that Mr. Duncan, co-ordinator of C. A. A., received word from the government the other day that Westminster's C. A. A. was harboring an alien? Again the culprit turned out to be our Canadian-born Hargreaves. But he doesn't look like a spy to us. The next bit of excitement was created by Heriot during his solo flight. His near crack-up sent the other aviation enthusiasts scurrying for protection. Most of the fellows are planning to join the Army or Navy Air Corps if the United States becomes involved in war. Evidently, they prefer flying an "Old Douglas" to peeling potatoes on K. P. duty. Several of the draftees have already made application. So far, fifteen to eighteen percent of Westminster C. A. A. men are already in the Army or Navy Air Corps. This is the average percent of C. A. A. students in the United States registered with the government corps. Solos have been made by six of the fellows this semester and the rest are well on their way. Eight hours of dual instruction are necessary for a solo flight, the biggest event in an aviator's life. Westminster's C. A. A. is following the old aviation tradition of cutting off the shirt tail of a successful soloist. Our boys' shirt tails hang side by side on the hanger wall with many former New Castle soloists. Thus, Westminster girls, if you see your best beau starting for the New Castle Airport dressed in his best and flashiest shirt, you can expect to welcome him back as a successful solo aviator.

Student Government

Controls Campus Activities

Commuters' Room—Old Main —STUDENT COUNCIL is a body of students including four Seniors, four Juniors, and two Sophomores which serves as a connecting link between the faculty and students. It is the Student Council which sponsors the Gripe Session in chapel on Fridays, at which the students may present their complaints against any customs, regulations, or actions of either the faculty or the student body. At these Gripe Sessions such things as the system of class elections and May Queen elections have been discussed and changed to meet the approval of the student body. And the waiters at the dormitories "griped" against the girls' sending out for three and four helpings of food and leaving chewing gum on their plates. The Gripe Session has been successful in focusing the students' attention on things which needed to be revised. Besides the Gripe Session in Friday chapel programs, Student Council has sponsored a great variety of programs, including swing bands, poetry, musical performances by members of the student body, and an exchange program with Allegheny College in which each school sent a representative to speak in chapel. This organization supervises class elections and rules Tribunal in the fall, in which the Freshmen are punished for breaking Freshmen regulations during Freshman Week. As a student governing body, Student Council has become a more prominent, progressive organization this year than it has been in previous years. It has dared to criticize the administration and the school regulations on behalf of the students. This criticism has been beneficial to both the students and to the administration because it arouses both the students and the faculty to think about issues concerning the improvement of the school. Student Council is also responsible for the organization of the Student Church, which is modeled after a democratic church congregation and helps in planning Sabbath evening chapel programs. The officers of Student Council are: President, Dick Kennedy; Vice-President, John Galbreath; Secretary, Mary Ziegler; and Treasurer, Paul Hazlett.

DEBATERS Sponsor Successful Season

DEBATE with added interest and a greatly increased squad, debating at Westminster made great progress this year. The year began with weekly Tuesday night meetings in 109 Old Main, under the able direction of the suave debate coach, Glenn Taylor. Here the two major national inter-collegiate questions for the year: "That the nations of the western hemisphere should enter into a permanent union, and that the United States should form a union with the British Commonwealth of Nations," were discussed, pulled apart, heatedly argued and up, down and back together again. Thus the questions were analyzed, new sources of information discovered, thinking stimulated, interest aroused, opinions formulated, the real issue discovered and smooth delivery developed.

Although not a national question, the third term issue was also discussed prior to the November election. Along with the frantic rush to get material for these Tuesday night preliminary de-gates, the heated discussions and hot rebuttals, these meetings were further enlivened by Shirley Hart's sudden loss of voice and equally sudden recovery.

Thus was the squad prepared for the December annual Tau Kappa Alpha sponsored pre-season tournament; attended by sixteen colleges from the surrounding area.

Then began the series of approximately eighty debates with such colleges as Allegheny, Pitt, Carnegie Tech, Mount Mercy, Geneva, Grove City, Slippery Rock, Youngstown, Washington and Jefferson, Waynesburg, and Akron University, punctuated by the mad rush to get to the appointed college on time, fast-thinking preparation for rebuttals, victories won, battles lost, new methods of delivery and presentation tried. Along with the formal debating, practice in parliamentary procedure was given in two conferences, one held at Penn State, another at Pitt. In these conferences, debaters from all over the state met as a legislative body to draw up resolutions representing student opinion. Also in line with the present collegiate tendency to get away from formal debating, several informal discussions were held with groups from nearby colleges.

Perhaps the highlight of the year was a trip south for all of the participants in debating that year. University of Western Virginia, Salem, Farmville, Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, and Washington, Pa., were some of the places that this group attended to give debates. The trip was featured by practical jokes, Merritt Reynolds ability to sleep under any and all conditions, Pepper's perfect revenge on Johnny Galbreath, the post card sent to Dean Turner from Prof. Taylor's cell in the Lancaster jail.

Throughout the year the group has debated in front of high school groups and Rotary, Kiwanis, and different women's clubs in the nearby communities. Johnny Galbreath, the hard-working debate manager and spark plug of the squad invented a new streamlined version of the Oregon style of debate.

The reward for this year of hard work came in the spring chapel presentation of plaques, cups and certificates and the tapping of outstanding debaters into T.K.A.

With over a dozen members of this year's squad returning next year, hopes are high that next year will be a banner year for the squad.

The team consists of the following people: C. Brand, E. Clark, C. Houston, G. Hoffman, E. Kautz, Doris Klein, R. Long, J. McKee, G. Obstter, R. Regester, M. Reynolds, E. Rotzler, E. Shear, N. Young.

Keyboards and Consoles

Present Westminster's Musical Program

The noisiest, busiest, friendliest building on campus is the Music Conservatory. Here among the clanging of pianos, the scraping of violin bows, the lusty scales of a baritone, or the shrill ah-ah-ahs of an ambitious soprano, seventy or more music majors spend the most of their busy lives.

PRACTICE, PERSISTENCE and

MUSIC—From his office and studio right in the midst of all the noise of the "conserve" Prof. D. Ralph Appleman directs the whirlwind activity which ensues when fourteen practice rooms are occupied, a jazz band is swinging out with "Pennsylvania 6500", and the college orchestra is tuning up for a rendition of "Atlantis". Mr. Appleman is new to the Conservatory, this being his first year at Westminster. It is his plan to change the curriculum so that a student can major in any instrument. Instead of the student's adjusting to an established curriculum, a curriculum will be provided which will be suited to the particular needs of each student.

Mr. Appleman organized the Westminster Symphonic Choir, whose successful Eastern tour will be remembered for a long time by its members. Just ask them about the beautiful brunette in Bellevue, George, the handsome bus driver, visiting the White House, or riding the subways in Philadelphia. "Uncle Dud" as Mr. Appleman was baptized on the trip, has a sense of humor, an engaging twinkle in his eye, and a way of making you work and like it. An energetic amateur photographer, he has a habit of snapping one's picture just at the wrong time.

The College Band is one musical group which the students really appreciate. The bright blue uniforms, white braid, and shiny instruments provide a vivid splotch of color, whether against the green of the football field or the drab brown of the gym bleachers. Between the halves of basketball and football games, Westminster listens to "The National Emblem", "The Donkey Serenade", and when the band has marched proudly to form a W, the "Westminster Hymn". High stepping before the straight lines of blue and white, is Irma Jean Kramer, diminutive majorette, she of the brunette curls, shiny brown eyes, and a figure which is just right for her white uniform—her fitted jacket with gold braid, full skirt lined with blue, and high white boots. Throughout the fall, the band practiced their marching faithfully. Every Monday and Wednesday afternoon a crowd of interested spectators homeward bound from the Grill or from lab watched Irma Jean and Mr. Cameron put the band through its paces. This year a student director, John Davis, directed the band in some of its rehearsals and also in several performances. This year, too, the band decided to buy white sweaters with a blue W.

The college orchestra is not as well known as the band, but those who heard either their overture and entr'acte to "Fashion" or their spring concert liked their interpretation of "Orientale", excerpts from "Tannhauser", and Beethoven's First. The orchestra practices every Tuesday night in the Conservatory and from outside one hears the string section rehearsing alone the difficult arpeggios in "Atlantis", or the trumpet soloist carefully working out the chromatics in "American Bolero", or perhaps the whole orchestra playing with finesse one of their favorites, "The Emperor Waltz".

The Chapel Choir, too, is a product of the Conservatory and is one which is invaluable to the Sunday evening services. Missing the after-tea chats on Sunday evenings and giving up chapel dates, the choir hurries to don their black robes with the stiffly starched white collars and to get ready to sing "Emite Spiritum" or "List the Cherubic Host" for Westminsterites who by this time have leisurely made their way to chapel.

To the students who work hard that we may have more and better music we are grateful for the many hours of real enjoyment which you have given us.

KENNETH FAULKNER giving Chapel recital

A CAPPELLA—The combination of fifty good voices and the baton of Professor D. Ralph Appleman has made the Westminster Symphonic Choir one of the best A Cappella groups in Pennsylvania. Besides a number of concerts in nearby towns, the choir was on tour for ten days this spring. Two buses were hired to take the group to Pittsburgh, Washington, and Philadelphia, and, according to "Uncle Dud", the choir not only provided some evenings of good music for its audiences, but managed to have a wonderful time for itself. The officers are Dave Swartz, business manager; John Davis, president; Ann Hausman, secretary-treasurer; Norma Gene Rainey, librarian.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB — The Women's Glee Club, directed by Miss Ada Peabody, is an organization of long standing on campus. The thirty girls meet every Wednesday afternoon at the Conservatory. The Glee Club gives occasional performances throughout the year. Janet Thomas is president; Ruth Maxwell, vice-president, and Charlotte Davis, librarian.

THE COLLEGE MALE QUARTET is one of the most popular singing groups on the campus. The quartet often sings at alumni meetings and before other audiences in nearby cities where they can be humorous or serious, as the occasion demands. Their popularity with the students makes them much in demand as creators of atmosphere and inspiration at college functions. The members are: Joseph Thompson, Henry Hudson, Dave Swartz, John Davis, and Al Lindsay, accompanist.

Man Of Leisure, Dr. Freeman Still Visits Chem Laboratory

By Lillian McCartney

Dr. Charles Freeman remembers with pleasure the years he has spent as professor and head of the Chemistry Department at Westminster college, but he has also been on himself as a man of leisure since his resignation from the post this fall.

In Dr. Freeman's own words, "I don't sit back and watch the other fellow work." Yet he just sit back, for he likes to go out and walk about the campus.

Sometimes he wanders down the football field to watch the team eleven at practice. He is interested in the progress they are making on the new girls' dormitory and much of his time is spent up over in that vicinity.

Very often Dr. Freeman can be seen strolling about New Wilderston puffing away at his cigar, leaning on his cane, and stopping frequently to chat with friends and acquaintances.

Alpha of Kappa Phi Lambda

New Castle St., Kappa Phi Lambda, the oldest local fraternity in the nation, was founded on Westminster's campus in 1864. The first chapter was organized at Washington and Jefferson College in 1862. The fraternity colors are orange and black. Professor Harold Brennan and Dr. Charles Freeman are both members and sponsors of the fraternity. Twenty-seven freshmen were pledged this fall. In 1937 "The Kaps" celebrated their 75th anniversary by giving the McGill College Library a stained glass window. It has become a tradition to elect a sweetheart of Kappa Phi Lambda each fall. This year it was Kathryn Francis, baby daughter of Joseph Francis. The unusual contrast of peace in America and war in Europe won the Homecoming Decorations Cup for them. The officers are JOSEPH YOUNG, President; ROBERT LIMBURG, Treasurer; and JOHN SNOW, Secretary.

SENIORS: Joseph Francis, James Gamble, Paul Horn, Robert Limburg, Fred Meider, Harlan Shaffer, Joseph Young, James Barnett.

Alpha Nu of Alpha Sigma Phi

The Alpha Nu chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi was founded on Westminster's campus in October, 1939. The first chapter was established at Yale University in 1845. At present Westminster's chapter consists of fifty-four active members and twenty-eight pledges. Pennants made in the fraternity colors, cardinal and stone, were used as a house party decoration recently. Dr. Hugh M. Hart and Mr. Thomas V. Mansel are the chapter's sponsors. The "Alpha Sigs" now have the distinction of holding the scholarship cup for the second consecutive year. With Dunmire, Miller and Patton as veterans in the games, the intra-mural basketball championship was won by the "Alpha Sigs". Have you noticed the lighted world globe which the chapter recently presented to the browsing room of the library? The officers are: THOMAS PATTON, President; HENRY HUDSON, Vice-President; HAROLD PFAU, Treasurer; JOHN WILLIAMS, Secretary, and JOE CHRISTY, Corresponding Secretary.

Lambda of Sigma Phi Epsilon

The Lambda chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon was founded on Westminster's campus in April, 1938. The first chapter was established at Richmond, Virginia, in November, 1901. At present the Lambda Chapter consists of forty-five active members, and thirty-four pledges. The fraternity flowers, American Beauty roses and violets, reveal the traditional "Sig Ep" colors of royal purple and red. Mr. Ralph Appleman is their faculty advisor and Professor Walter Biberich is their faculty member. The intra-mural football championship was won by the outstanding plays of Valicenti, and the Demoise twins. "Tank" Farrell surprised us all by his performances as goalie in the water-polo games. The Sig Eps won the championship in this sport also. The officers of the chapter are: DANIEL MAMULA, President; HOWARD WILLAMAN, Vice-President; MORD TAYLOR, JR., Comptroller; and JOHN COCHRAN, Secretary.

SENIORS: Harry DePaulis, James Elliott, Curtis Fritz, Harry Glenn, Daniel Mamula.

Sororities

"Suites of Sweets"

Rushing in the grill, Tavern pledge parties, midnight snacks, frantic moments of waiting in chapel when the frosh sign their pledge cards, formals in the spring, all combine to make sororities a "must" to campus coeds.

Living together in the new Ferguson Hall dormitory, the girls enjoy companionship in the friendly atmosphere. The six sorority suites are located in the building with equal advantages.

Alpha Epsilon of Alpha Gamma Delta

Alpha Gamma Delta Suite, Ferguson Hall—Alpha Epsilon of Alpha Gamma Delta, installed in 1927, was the third national sorority to be installed on the campus. The national sorority, founded at Syracuse University in 1904, supports two summer camps for underprivileged children, one at Jackson, Michigan, and the other at Welland, Ontario, for which local chapter raises a yearly fund as well as sending several girls as counsellors each summer. This year the money to be contributed to the maintenance of these camps was obtained through a series of tea dances. Some of the other activities of the "Alpha Gams" this year are a Red Cross Tea at Eastover, the home of the patroness, Mrs. Russell, at which there was dancing as well as "tea", and a "Hangover" party at the Tavern after Christmas vacation. The magazine of Alpha Gamma Delta is the Quarterly; the sorority colors, red, buff, and green, and the flower, the crimson rose. The local chapter has in all, nineteen active members and thirteen pledges, which are as follows: JANE McMUNN, President; FRANCES ROSSELL, Vice-President; MARY ELLEN SMITH, Treasurer.

SENIORS: Jane Blythe, Inez Hawthorne, Mildred Leupold, Ruth Mercer.

Beta Gamma of Beta Sigma Omicron

Beta Sigma Omicron, the "baby" sorority on the campus was formed in May, 1937, the last of the six sororities to be founded at Westminster. Taking the Kilarney rose as their flower and the colors of ruby and pink, the Beta Sigs assumed a place as an active sorority on the campus. Their philanthropic work extends to the Piney Mountain Settlement in Kentucky.

Early events of Beta Sig's 1940-41 season were luncheons, one for Homecoming visitors at the Tavern and another for Dad's day guests at the Paradise, and also a tea, given in honor of their National Inspector.

They enjoyed the Christmas season by having a party and by meeting in Pittsburgh during vacation.

Beta Sigs were guests at a party given by their patronesses, Mrs. Ross Ellis, Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Davis, and Miss Peabody, and entertained by the alumni at a dessert bridge.

The circus party for pledges in February and the Mother's day luncheon at the Castleton in April, events of the late season, are well remembered. However, the formal given at Sharon Country Club on May sixteenth, when Alma Keith reigned as queen, was the highlight of the Beta Sig year.

Officers are: President, BETH ROBINS; Vice-President, LEE ANNA McCOLGIN; Secretary, VIRGINIA PATTERSON, and Treasurer, ALMA KEITH.

Omicron Gamma of Chi Omega

Under the protection of the owl and the white carnation, in 96 chapters scattered through 42 of the 48 states, the cardinal and straw of Chi Omega is found. The local chapter, Omicron Gamma, was Westminster's first national, founded in 1925. Mrs. Thomas Mansell is patroness of the chapter. Other "sorores in urbe" are Julia Metcalfe, Florence McKee, and Dorothy Osgood.

Every year Chi Omega presents a Sociology Award at Commencement to the senior woman most outstanding in Social Studies. For each issue of Scrawl, the sorority also gives a prize to the best contributor.

The 1940-1941 college year began with six senior members of the sorority settled in the suite on Hillside's second floor. The suite, complete with a fearful and wonderful lighting system, and a radio, the pride and joy of all, was the scene of the Homecoming feed for actives and returning alumni. With the finishing of Ferguson Hall, however, the sorority moved to its allotted suite on the third floor front.

1940-1941 will be especially remembered for the coming of Julia Metcalfe to Westminster, the Christmas vacation get-together in Pittsburgh, the dude ranch rush party, the surprise birthday party for Corinne Shott. In the spring the sorority purchased dicekeys marked with the sorority insignia. As always, the highlight and proper finish for the year was the spring formal at the Field Club.

JEAN MARTIN, President; LUCILLE DENNY, Vice-President; MARGARET KLINGER, Treasurer.

Alpha Phi of Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta Suite, Ferguson Hall—Alpha Phi chapter of Kappa Delta, founded at Westminster in 1939, is one of seventy chapters of national Kappa Delta, the fifth ranking sorority in National Pan-Hellenic Congress according to the number of chapters. The national philanthropy of the sorority is the maintenance of a fund at the Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond, Virginia. The magazine of Kappa Delta is The Angelos. This publication, printed in the sorority colors, green and white, was voted the best Greek magazine by the Bantas. The present possessor of the sorority scholarship cup, the local chapter upholds a high scholastic standard as well as promoting social activities. Some of the activities of the chapter during the past year have been a faculty tea in honor of Mrs. D. Ralph Appelman, the sorority's new patroness; a hay ride ending with a bonfire at the home of patroness Mrs. James V. Baker; Christmas caroling the evening before Christmas vacation; and the sponsoring of a "Bundles for Britain" campaign. There are in all twenty-two active members of Alpha Phi chapter and thirteen pledges which are as follows:

RUTH MAXWELL, President; LOIS BYWATERS, Vice-President; SALLY STURGEON, Treasurer.

SENIORS: Virginia Purdy.

Alpha Sigma of Sigma Kappa

The Alpha Sigma Chapter of Sigma Kappa was founded on the campus in 1926. Sigma Kappa's members at Westminster, as in the other forty-five chapters throughout the United States and Canada, have as their colors maroon and lavender and their flower, the violet. The first two chapters of the sorority were founded at Colby College in Waterville, Maine. In 1918 Sigma Kappa voted to adopt as its altruistic project work in the Maine Sea Coast Mission. The sorority now supports two social workers who serve as nurses, teachers and counselors in the poverty-stricken and isolated areas of the Maine seacoast. The Mission supplies religious and scholastic education and medical and practical aid.

Miss Wilanna Lorimer and Miss Dorothy Kirkbride, both of Westminster's faculty, are members of Sigma Kappa. The patronesses of the local chapter are Mrs. MacConagha and Mrs. Reuter.

At weekly meetings in the new three-room suite in Ferguson Hall plans were made for the spaghetti dinners at Sharon, feeds in the suites, aid to the local Red Cross, Christmas boxes for the Maine Sea Coast Mission, the purchase of white sweaters and socks monogrammed with a maroon S K, and the all-important

Upsilon of Theta Upsilon

Upsilon chapter of Theta Upsilon was founded on Westminster's campus in February, 1931. The first chapter was established in January, 1914, at University of California. The color scheme for all Theta U. affairs is based on the traditional rainbow colors. The chapter is composed of fifteen active members and twenty pledges. Last fall a Berea Bazaar Exhibit was sponsored by the T. U.'s to sell hand-made articles of the Berea students. Health maintenance at Berea College is the national altruistic work of the sorority. The Theta U.'s appeared on campus in the fall wearing their new red, corduroy jockey caps embroidered with Theta Upsilon in white. A party was held in October at Mrs. Washabaugh's for the pledges. The annual Christmas party was at Mrs. Brennan's. The Tavern parties bring back memories of charcoal-covered marshmallows, Mrs. Duncan hunting peanuts, "Disappeared with the Draft," and the Theta U. Swingaroo Band. Harriet Behm was chosen this year by the Theta U.'s to reign as "Queen of the Spring Formal." She will have a court of five.

The officers are: LOIS PORCH, President; BETTY HUMES, Vice-President; ISABEL HANLON, Secretary; and ESTHER KING, Treasurer.

Titans Enter Tournament Wednesday Against LIU Blackbirds In Second Game Of Evening Rhode Island-Seton Hall In First Contest

Westminster's Garden-bound Titans, victorious in two games out of twenty-one starts, will complete final detail day and tomorrow preparatory to embarking for New York and participation in the Metropolitan Intercollegiate basketball tournament, March 18 to 24.

Leaving the campus Sunday morning at seven for a 3:30 breakfast at Ferguson hall, the team en route to New York City from the University of Pittsburgh at the New Castle junction. The school is expected to arrive in Pittsburgh at 9:45 and arrive at approximately 11:00.

Five Men Start Ground Training

Five local students will begin ground training next week as advance units of the college's second semester contingent of the Civil Air Corps. Registered students include Richard Ellis, the Piccadilly hotel, and Regester, Jack Bergdoll, Harold Washabaugh, the tourney, and Pfau, John Gealy, and Carleton. The coach planned for the Hargreaves.

Negotiations are being conducted with CAA authorities for permission to train twenty students in the spring program, according to Bingham Duncan, campus director.

Return Game With Juniata Saturday

Westminster Given Odds On Visitors

Returning from their Eastern trip with three more victories on their string, making total 13 wins out of 14 starts, the Towering Titans are scheduled to meet Juniata in the local gym Saturday night for the second consecutive game this season.

Golf, Tennis, Track To Begin In April

Three of the campus' minor sports will begin next month, when the Titan golfers, net-men, and harriers begin their spring inter-collegiate competition.

Both golf and tennis teams see their first action of the season on April 18 against Slippery Rock, the net men meeting the Green and White on the State Teacher's courts. The golfers tangling with the Rough Riders on the Titan course. The golf team has two scheduled during the month.

The Titan squad travels to Beaver Falls tomorrow to their oldest rival in intercollegiate football, Geneva college. Since first playing Geneva in 1891, losing the game 42-0 score, there has been intense rivalry between the schools. Although the Titans have taken only one tie and wins from the Geneva team in the last ten years, the Westminster eleven is going into the game tomorrow determined to bring home a victory.

11 MEN AND A BALL

Westminster's 1940 football team was called the "Green team" and appropriately so because only two seniors, one junior, and four sophomore football veterans answered Head Coach Washabaugh's call in early September. The rest of the varsity came entirely from the incoming freshman class. With only two full weeks of practice, this ragged squad had to be molded into a smooth working football team.

On the twenty-first of September, the team played its opening game before a small crowd at Edinboro College. The game was marked by loose play on both sides because of the early date, but the superior Titans soon took control of the game and finished "going away" 26 to 0. This was the first college game for Wilson, Horton, Riggle, J. Demoise, F. Demoise, Tack, Davis, Hudson, Zech, and Harris.

The following Saturday, a cocky but badly out-classed Titan eleven battled the West Virginia Mountaineers, one of the nation's outstanding elevens, through a hard-fought first half, only to have the superior weight and constant substitutions of the opponent wear them down and send Westminster down to a 47-0 defeat. The freshman players gave a good account of themselves against this high-class competition but lack of experience spelled their downfall.

Saturday, October 5, the Blue and White team met an inspired Slippery Rock teachers team that played almost perfect football. The Titan team showed the mental and physical beating they had taken in West Virginia and cracked badly in offensive drive. 27 to 0 was the final score of this encounter.

In the first night football game ever played by Westminster College, the team traveled to Rayen stadium to meet Youngstown College Thursday night. Again the Titan team showed a lack of seasoned substitutions and veteran linemen; and the Penguins had a field day, scoring 44 points while holding the Titans scoreless. Captain Valicenti played one of the best games of his career, along with Evanoff, Ossoff, and Lane. Ted Ossoff received an ankle injury which put him on the shelf for a while.

Homecoming Day, with all its color and pagentry, featured the game between Westminster and Bethany College from West Virginia. The game soon developed into Hart and Co. against the Titans as the huge Bethany fullback played all over the field. A real triple-threat back, Hart scored a touchdown in the third quarter and later in the game kicked a thirty-five yard field-goal to make the final score of the game 9-0 in favor of Bethany.

The third home game of the season brought the Thiel squad to New Wilmington and one of the hardest fought battles of the season came out of this meeting. Both teams fought to a standstill in mid-field, but a sustained drive netted the Thiel eleven six points

In the crowning game of the season, a fighting team of Titans went to play Geneva in their Homecoming game. The Blue and White squad astonished even their own following with the driving offense and stonewall defense the team displayed throughout the game. Following a series of passes after Zech recovered a Geneva fumble on the 45 yard line, Valicenti threw a low pass to Evanoff over the goal line, which "Pete" caught by diving for it. That one touchdown proved enough to send Geneva to defeat, the first time in eleven years of Westminster - Geneva competition. The exceptional kicking of the Demoise twins kept the Covenanters continually on their heels.

In the last game of the season, a slightly over-confident Titan team was hit hard by a well-balanced Grove City team and defeated 27-6. This game was the last tilt for Captain Valicenti and Paul Rood, the only seniors on the team. Both of these men played four years of varsity football and proved themselves real Titans. Following the Grove City game, Pete Evanoff was chosen to lead the Westminster football team for next year. Evanoff has always been known in this district as a hard-hitting, fast moving back and clever signal-caller and field general.

Considering the material with which the team began the season, and the beating they took, so early in the season, at the hands of the heavy West Virginia team, the 1940 football season was better than was expected. The freshman fellows who earned their letters and those men who remained on the squad throughout the season although not gaining a letter, deserve all the credit that can be given to an athletic team in writing.

Westminster's Headliners

Basketball and Westminster are synonymous terms with district sport fans. Westminster has had outstanding teams for fourteen years. This year Westminster's Titans finished their college season with the best college record since 1899. They pulled down the Pennsylvania state championship with a record of twenty wins against one lone defeat. With the exception of Dale Dunmire, sophomore forward, the starting quintet was composed entirely of Juniors, and all have matured into intercollegiate basketball champions under Coach Grover C. Washabaugh. The team is as follows: Charles "Buzz" Ridl, forward; Dale "Smokey" Dunmire, forward; Stan "Fish" Wasik, center; Lee Fox, guard, Joe Spak, guard.

Men Who Made Basketball History

When the Titans completed their regularly scheduled games this year, with a record of twenty games won with only one loss, they brought to the college its best record in forty-two years of basketball.

The season opened with a 50-42 win over an aggressive Alderson Broaddus College team on our home floor, Smokey Dunmire playing the leading role with 13 points.

"Buzz" Ridl, leading scorer last year with 177 points, led the local team to a decisive 49-28 victory over an old rival, Slippery Rock Teachers college, by garnering 17 markers.

In the first game on a foreign court, Carnegie Tech was downed in the roughest game of the season by a score of 41-27. Dunmire again led the team by scoring 13 points.

The next two victories were played at home with the victims being Indiana Teachers and Youngstown College. The Teachers were taken by a 45-34 count with New York's Lee Fox showing the way with 18 tallies. Youngstown was also taken in stride in a 42-29 manner with Center Wasik getting 15 points out of the rugged battle.

The always-important Pitt game, played before a capacity crowd in Pitt stadium, resulted in a 41-36 win, dominated by Buzz Ridl's 15 points on four field goals and seven shots from the foul line. Incidentally, the Titans have made 65 per cent of their foul shots, which helps no little in keeping their record intact.

The local cagers, led by Dunmire, playing one of his best games this season and scoring 21 points, defeated Geneva College, 54-47.

Then Smokey at the helm again, this time with 13 points, the Blue and White traveled to Bethany College and hopelessly outclassed the Bisons, 54-27, with the substitutes playing most of the game.

The following night, Westminster defeated the highly-touted W. and J. combination by the score of 44-47. Stan Wasik led the team to its ninth consecutive win with 17 points.

After mid-semester vacation, the Grovermen traveled to Indiana and were rudely upset, 38-37, by a last minute spurt by the Teachers for their first and only loss of the season.

Relieved of the pressure of being undefeated, the Titans nevertheless were pushed to the limit to defeat Waynesburg in a nip-and-tuck affair, 47-44, played at New Wilmington.

West Chester Teachers was added to the win column by a 54-

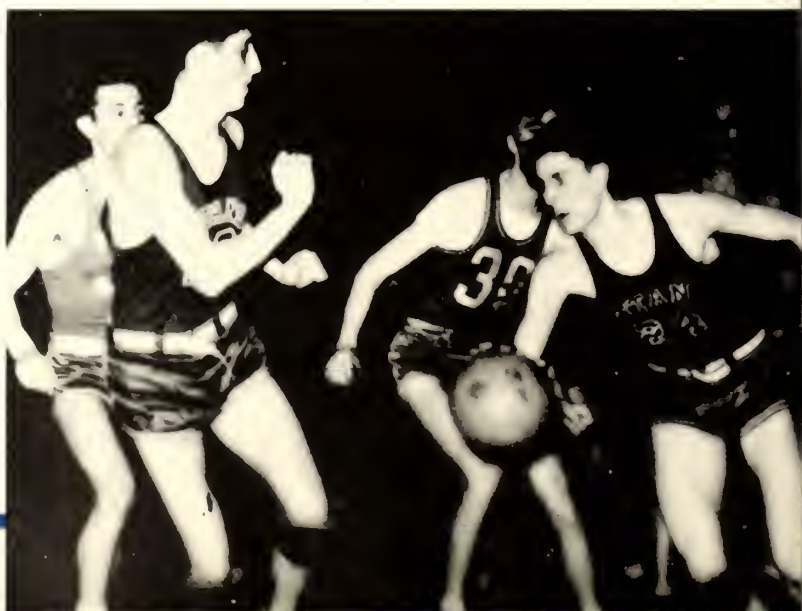

35 score, with Spak emerging with high score of 13 points.

The locals received their second scare when they bested Millersville Teachers, 51-48, in a game in which the subs were unable to check a late home team's rally. Fox accounted for 24 points, the high individual score of the team this season.

The final game on the trip resulted with Westminster gaining a 54-25 decision over Juniata team, Fox leading the team with 14 points. With this trip, the Titans assumed state leadership with 13 wins out of 14 starts.

The cagers came home for a return game with Juniata and this time the scoreboard read 61-

Wasik dribbling past Dunmire in Garden Tournament, New York

34 in favor of Westminster. Little Frankie "Sabu" O'Hara took the limelight with 13 points. This game was costly in that it robbed the team of one of its star players when Buzz Ridl tore a ligament in his ankle and was out of action.

The Blue and White turned on the steam to whip Waynesburg, 56-39, on the Jackets' floor.

The next game saw Westminster travel to Youngstown College to take a thrilling 49-48 victory which the Penguins tried hard to get.

Geneva was defeated on its home court 55-40. The Titans took a 54-47 win from Bethany in a game that saw the Blue and White lose a 19 point lead in the final quarter.

The Slippery Rock game away was the most exciting one of the season. A dazed Rocket gym, saw the Titans pull a "Superman" act, scoring six points in the last 45 seconds of play, to hang up a 55-53 verdict and make the victory bells ring for the 19th time.

The final regulation game of the season was a 60-40 triumph over Carnegie Tech's "Winless Wonders." This assured them of the mythical Pennsylvania state championship and putting them in line for their bid to the New York Metropolitan tournament.

Titans Take State Title

Twenty wins to one lone defeat gave the Westminster Titans the mythical Pennsylvania state championship today. The seven men who made this possible are: "Smokey" Dunmire, this year's high scorer; Buzz Ridl, Stan Wasik, Joe Spak, Fred Miller, Lee Fox, Coach Grover C. Washabaugh. Other members of the team are: Frank O'Hara, Ted Ossoff, Bob Washabaugh, Frank Hetra. These are the men who put Westminster on the sports' map when they won the Pennsylvania State championship and received the coveted bid to Madison Square Garden.

Garden Goers

Westminster picked as one of the best teams in country

Westminster's Garden-bound Titans, victorious in twenty games out of twenty-one starts, will complete final details today and tomorrow preparatory to embarking for New York city and participation in the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Basketball tournament, March 18 to 24.

Leaving the campus Sunday morning at seven following an early 6:30 breakfast at Ferguson hall, the team entrains for Pittsburgh from the New Castle junction. The squad, accompanied by Head Coach Grover C. Washabaugh, Trainer Dave Boyd, Prof. Wallace R. Biggs, News Bureau head, and Business Manager Ross Ellis, is expected to arrive in Pittsburgh at 9:25 and will immediately board the train for New York city from the Union depot. The train is scheduled to leave at 9:45 and arrive at approximately 6:40, Sunday evening.

A large crowd of students is expected to brave the early hours of the departure to wish the team Godspeed and good luck from the gymnasium.

Once in New York, the team will immediately proceed to their permanent quarters, the Piccadilly hotel, just five blocks from Madison Square garden, scene of the tourney, according to Coach Washabaugh. The only entertainment planned for the evening according to other sources, is the probable attendance at a hockey game.

Monday morning will find the squad ready for several tune-up practice sessions, the coach said early today, although he added he could not definitely state where the sessions would be held. All arrangements, he continued, are in the hands of Ned Irish, tournament director. Irish will probably make the trip with the Titans. Coach also declared, since the director will be in Pittsburgh Saturday night as chair speaker at a banquet tendered to the basketball squad of Duquesne, also participants in the national tourney.

Other colleges, in addition to Westminster and Duquesne, participating in the national basketball classic are Long Island university, City College of New York, Ohio university, University of Virginia, Rhode Island state, and Seton hall.

Playoffs in the tourney will begin Tuesday night with four of the eight teams meeting to decide which quintets will be eliminated from further play. A strong Duke squad, Titan rivals for district top honors, will meet Ohio university while the second half of the evening's double header will feature the contest between the University of Virginia and City College of New York.

The Titans will break into play Wednesday night when they meet Long Island on the Garden floor. The Blackbirds, under the tutelage of Coach Claire Bee, are no new-comers to the locals. The blue and white cagers met the tall Long Islandmen last season, losing to them by the slim margin of five points with the final score standing at 47-42 in favor of the Blackbirds. Rhode Island state and Seton hall will complete the night's twin-bill.

Our Champions In Minor

Cross Country Team Takes Sectional Honors

Starting their minor season in mid-winter with inter-collegiate swimming meets, the Titan Tanker, coached by Joe Ferris, won three out of ten. This may not seem like an achievement to many but it represents a great stride in the field of swimming for Westminster. We are this year swimming against many harder and more seasoned tankers than ourselves. The results of the season are as follows:

Westminster 25—Fenn	50
Westminster 26—Fenn	49
Westminster 29—Western Reserve	46
Westminster 33—W. & J.	41
Westminster 45—Grove City	21
Westminster 49—Allegheny	45
Westminster 30—Tech	45
Westminster 19—Slippery Rock	56
Westminster 20—Slippery Rock	55
Westminster 36—Grove City	30

These are the results of Westminster's swimming team. On this year's team we have Charles Hamel of Pittsburgh, who has the most promise of any of the boys on the team. He has already in his short college career of one year, broken many of the records in nearby colleges. The other members of the team are Captain Warren Pollock who had to drop out early this year because of a bad heart condition. "Buttons" was by far the best sprint man that we had and it was a great loss to the team to have him out this season. The victories would have been more and greater if he had been in there. The squad consisted of: Chal Houston, John Gealy, Bill Hill, Harry Brownscombe, Dick Long, Don Brooks, Dick Donley, Ed Cray, and Bill Sheid.

Cross Country is one of Westminster's fast growing popular sports. Taking the district championship we have won recognition all over the state for our team. At Slippery Rock we won, 30-25, with Jim Edwards breaking another course record. At the Bethany, Slippery Rock, Thiel and Westminster district meet, Edwards broke the course record again. Other meets were:

Westminster 22—Bethany	33
Westminster 26—Carnegie Tech	29
Westminster 23—Thiel	32

This wound up the victorious tarriers season with a record of five wins and no losses. Joe Ferris is the person who is indirectly responsible for most of these victories.

by winning the first meet from Grove City by two-thirds of a point, the track team got off to a fine start. J. Demoise was high in the meet with 19 points to tally for his side. Defeat at the hands of Tech was a serious blow, for the score was 62-64 and there was no mile relay which would have brought the winning bacon home. Jim Edwards was the hero in the W. & J. meet, running the two mile relay with a spiked ankle to make sure that we added another laurel to what we had by a score of 62-64. The last meet with Slippery Rock was won by the same score. Fred Miller made spectacular pole vaults all through the year. Ted Roscoe helped out and the rest of the team did their part for a successful minor sport season for the Westminsterites.

With Dick Kennedy and Ed Stephens playing No. 1 and No. 2 positions on the tennis team, prospects for the year are excellent, according to Net Coach Walter Biberich.

With most of last year's team already out for practice, the squad has five representatives from the freshman class, Felix and Joe Demoise, Jim Bennett, Jerry Boyd, Don Roy.

The team has been practicing in the gym for several weeks, conditions of the courts make it impossible for actual play.

WOMEN SPORTS . . .

Increases Interest in Athletics on Westminster Campns

Hockey, swimming, archery, tennis, are part of the curriculum in women's sports. Bruised knees are always the result of the annual Homecoming Day game when the Coed All-Stars grapple with the Alumnae Has-beens. This year the Alums were defeated by the Coeds 11 to 1. Broken ankles, skinned knees, and bloody noses are all part of the game . . . ask Jane Adams. Squabbles over rules, playing out of position, whacked shins, stubbed fingers—what a game!

Volleyball and basketball seem to be the favorites in women's sports. Squabbling every year as to whether to play boys' or girls' rules, they decide that the girls' game is much easier and just as exciting, after running up and down the floor a couple of times. At a play day at Edinboro College, Dot Besnecker was voted one of the outstanding basketball players.

Archery? Of course, every day behind the gym. Miss Lorimer is still attempting to discover who the "Robin Hood" was that hit an unfortunate driver. The Archery Club was formed to teach aspirants and to further members' skill.

Riding is fast becoming a popular sport. Undaunted by the spills, the girls still go for their breakfast and moonlight rides.

"Ying" is headmaster with his new stables and six horses.

Badminton, tennis, bowling, and mushball have held their own in the realm of Westminster's women's sports. Several intramural leagues were organized for these sports.

Hiking was boosted by W. A. A.'s Outing Club. The Outing Club members have to endure freezing hands and feet, non-drawing fires, burnt food, hard bunks, bugs—but still love it. The first hike of the year made the girls miss their beauty sleep, because of "coon hunters."

This women's sports honorary club is fast becoming another Westminister tradition. It was organized in 1931 to create love of sports and is still growing in 1941. W. A. A. sponsors women's intramurals, the spring style show, a thirty-five dollar scholarship to a chosen junior, and awards a Westminister blanket to a deserving senior. Through the year W. A. A. has several sports nights and hikes. W. A. A. also sells the candy at the football and basketball games. Every May they hold a banquet for the departing members. This year Marilyn Conrad received the Westminister blanket. Betty Horne was president, with Dorothy Beckman as vice-president, Martha Barnhill as secretary, and Mildred Gorby as treasurer.

INTRAMURALS Increase Interest and Friendly Rivalry on Campus

MERMAIDS

Mermaids is the girls' swimming club. Each year they present a colorful pageant. This year the pageant had a Hawaiian atmosphere with suitable music, rhythmical swimming, superb diving, colored lights under water and figure formations by forty girls in lovely white bathing suits.

BLOCK W CLUB

Block "W" is the men's varsity athletic club. Each man in the club has made his letter in a major varsity sport. The organization holds one dance a year during the fall at which time the members choose a Block W queen from the senior co-eds. During the dance the queen is crowned and presented with a sweater and letter. Jean Martin, Aliquippa brunette, was chosen queen this year. Harry DePaulis, three-year football varsity man, was this year's president. The aim of the club is the fostering of inter-collegiate athletic competition.

NEPTUNE CLUB

Neptune Club is the newly-formed varsity swimming club to encourage competitive swimming among the men students. Only two years old, the club puts on an aquacade of fancy swimming and diving and the Mother's Day inter-fraternity swimming meet. To become a member, a man must win his varsity swimming letter and pass a test based on aquatic skill and knowledge of swimming. The club sponsors the Life-saving classes and its members give Red Cross life-saving tests. Warren Pollock, swimming captain and diver, is president of Neptune Club.

Wishes to take this opportunity to thank the persons who helped this year's staff. . .

Every editor and yearbook staff incur their own private heartaches and headaches, while trying to publish a yearbook that will meet with the approval of the student body and will still include a complete record of the year.

Few people realize how much depends upon the people whose names are not included under the title "staff." As editor of this year's annual I wish to thank those people who have made my task and the task of the staff much simpler.

We honor . . . Mr. Brennan, our friendly advisor, who gave so freely of his time and advice. Mr. Russ Snyder, our technical man, whose innumerable suggestions were much more appreciated than he will ever realize. Mr. F. F. Rutter, our printer, who so graciously gave his time and advice to make the book what it is. Mr. Harry Pinkerson, the smiling photographer, who really did a grand job with this year's photo work. Mr. Baker, the cover authority, Mr. Wallace Biggs, Mr. Joseph Young, Mr. Robert Limburg, Mr. Dean Brooks, Miss Ruth Nevin, Miss Virginia Rye, Miss Marilyn Protheroe, Mr. David McHenry, and other persons too numerous to mention, who graciously gave their time and advice. We of the 1942 Argo staff know that this humble recognition is not worthy of your many favors, but we earnestly and sincerely appreciated your efforts . . .

TEN-SHUN!

Regularly and not infrequently, orders come for additional draftees for our National Defense—and it may not be long before many of you grads and undergrads will jump to the familiar "Ten-shun!"

The Eagle Printery army is working on a Defense Program, too—a sound defense against the customary headaches and worries experienced in publishing a yearbook.

Our preparedness program was instituted more than twenty years ago, so we don't have to wait for "guns and ammunitions," we have them—plus the skilled men who know how to use them.

A special plan* of attack is yours for the asking—our general staff dovetails with your organization. When you give us the order to start marching, about all that's left for you to do is sign a reasonable check and blow "taps."

Call in The Eagle Printery army NOW and make it an "ALL OUT FOR AN 'ALL-AMERICAN' YEARBOOK!"

We printed one of the two Pennsylvania "All-American" Books in 1940—THE ARGO of Westminster College—write them—they'll tell you how we do it.

The Eagle Printery Visograph—you should see it—simple as A. B. C.*

MASTER ENGRAVERS TO AMERICA'S SCHOOLS

An American

TRADITION

For more than half a century Pontiac has been producing QUALITY printing plates for all types of publication work and has established a reputation for dependable service which is unexcelled among photo-engravers. Everywhere Pontiac yearbook service men have become known for their friendly, helpful assistance and are recognized for their ability as specialists in the school publication field.

It has become "An American Tradition" for schools to select Pontiac as their engraver year after year, with the result that the number of annuals handled by Pontiac has steadily increased. Hundreds of these staffs have developed distinctive books with the assistance of Pontiac artists and have gained recognition for the originality and success of their publications.

The entire personnel of Pontiac Engraving & Electrotypes Co. salute the publishers of this book for their splendid efforts in producing a fine yearbook. They invite other schools to join the thousands of satisfied Pontiac clients for assistance in the solution of their engraving problems.

Pontiac served as the Official Engraver to this book.
